Notennow

1 y particle

The 'y' particle causes a 5th mutation. It is a more formal way of making a statement; it requires the conjugated form of the verb

It is also used after the interrogatives Py eur, Dhe by eur and prag.

Ple is followed by the verb with a 5th mutation, perhaps indicating that the 'y' particle was dropped long ago

Y hallav = my a yll, y fynny = ni a vynn

Dhe by eur y hwra dos an tren? At what time does the train arrive?

Ple hyllyn mos? Where can we go?

2 direct object pronouns with the auxiliary verbs

The direct object pronouns with the auxiliary verbs are the same as the possessive adjectives and cause the same mutations

ow³ dha² y² hy³ agan agas aga³

My a vynn gweles an voves I want to see the girl

My a vynn hy gweles I want to see her

Ev a yll klewes an ki He can hear the dog

Ev a yll y glewes He can hear it

Ni a wra prena kartennow We do buy cards

Ni a wra aga frena We buy them

Ny wrug vy klewes an maw I didn't hear the boy.

Ny wrug vy y glewes I didn't hear him

The same construction is used with bos expressions

Da yw genev y weles I like to see it

Gwell yw ganso hy klewes He prefers to hear her

Res yw dhyn y skrifa We must write it.

3 ow

This word is (i) the possessive adjective, (ii) the direct object pronoun with auxiliary verbs and (iii) the present participle particle

(i) As a possessive adjective it causes a 3rd mutation

ow hi	ow hath	ow fluven	ow thas
my dog	my cat	my pen	my father

(ii) as a direct object pronoun with auxiliary verbs it causes a 3rd mutation

ev a wrug ow helli	hi a vynnas ow thava	ev a wra ow gortos
he did lose me (he lost me)	she wanted to touch me	he waits for me

(iii) as a present participle particle it causes a 4th mutation (this ow was probably derived from orth)

ow kul	ow pewa	ow kortos
doing	living	waiting

4 gul

Gul used as an auxiliary verb often has a future meaning

My a wra skrifa can mean 'I shall write; as well as 'I do write'
