Notennow

1 Subordinating conjunctions

Awos, drefen and rag, like kyns and wosa, are all used with subject + dhe + infinitive of the verb

Y feu lowena yn hy holon awos hi dhe weles hy howeth koth.

There was joy in her heart because she saw her old friend.

Rag, drefen, and awos all translate as “because” or “because of”, but awos is not used in the negative.

2 Use of the verb

When a sentence has two, or more, verbs with the same subject then often only the first is conjugated.

Hi a dreylyas war-tu aral ha mos bys yn aswa.

She turned the other way and went into an opening.

An dhew a dhallathas kewsel, ha hedhi yn unn hwerthin.

They both began to speak, and stopped with a laugh

3 to drop

Cornish traditionally did not have a word for to drop but used, and uses, to let fall gasa dhe godha. Only the first verb is conjugated.

4 while or as

ha + the present participle has the meaning while something is/was happening.

ha hi ow kewsel while/as she was talking ha hi ow treylya while/as she was turning

ha'n den ow lewya as the man was driving

5 when

Cornish uses three different words for English when pan en vy yowynk when I was young - this is a conjunction and must be followed by the conjugated verb.

p'eur fydh an nessa kuntelles? when is the next meeting - this is an interrogative and is followed by the 5th mutation py eur yw an nessa tren? When (at what time) is the next train? - this is an interrogative and demands a precise time as an answer. Note: most people say Dhe by eur yw an nessa tren?
